

ICCE 2027 - CODE of CONDUCT

20th International Conference on Chemistry and the Environment (ICCE 2027)

6 - 10 June 2027 | Gdańsk, Poland

OUR COMMITMENT

ICCE conferences are committed to scientific and individual diversity, inclusivity and excellence.

ICCE 2027 aims to provide a welcoming, safe and productive environment for all participants, speakers, organisers, volunteers and staff. We value diversity of perspectives, backgrounds and scientific expertise as an essential part of international scientific collaboration.

This Code of Conduct applies to all participants and to all activities associated with ICCE 2027, including scientific sessions, poster sessions, workshops, meetings, social events and official online communication.

RESPECT AND INCLUSION

All participants are expected to treat one another with respect, courtesy and professionalism.

ICCE 2027 is committed to providing an inclusive, respectful and welcoming environment for all participants, regardless of their background, identity, beliefs or personal characteristics.

The Conference is committed to promoting diversity and inclusion in its governance bodies and committees, in the scientific programme and in the selection of keynote and plenary speakers.

SCIENTIFIC EXCHANGE

Open discussion, constructive criticism and different scientific perspectives are essential to a successful scientific conference. Personal attacks, discriminatory or derogatory comments, intimidation, bullying or behaviour that discourages others from participating in scientific exchange are not acceptable.

RESPECT FOR PRESENTATIONS AND INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY

Scientific presentations and posters remain the intellectual property of their authors unless otherwise agreed. Participants must respect a Presenter's request not to photograph, record, copy or disseminate their presentation or poster.

Presenters may use a "NO RECORDING / NO PHOTOGRAPHY / NO COPYING" notice on their slides or posters to indicate such a request.

Any use or dissemination of scientific material presented at ICCE 2027 should respect applicable copyright and intellectual property rights and provide appropriate attribution. Abstracts, posters and scientific presentations should focus on scientific content and should not be used primarily for advertising or commercial promotion of products, services or companies.

HARASSMENT AND INAPPROPRIATE BEHAVIOUR

ICCE 2027 does not tolerate harassment, discrimination, sexual harassment, bullying, intimidation, threatening behaviour or unwanted conduct of any kind. This applies to behaviour occurring in person or through online communication associated with the Conference.

RAISING CONCERNS

Participants who experience or witness behaviour inconsistent with this Code of Conduct are encouraged to contact a member of the ICCE 2027 Organising Committee. Concerns will be taken seriously and handled with respect and, where possible, confidentiality. The Organising Committee may take appropriate action in response to serious or repeated violations, including asking a participant to leave a session or Conference activity or, where necessary, withdrawing their participation in the Conference.

A SHARED RESPONSIBILITY

A successful conference depends not only on the quality of its scientific programme, but also on the quality of the community we create. By participating in ICCE 2027, we ask everyone to contribute to an environment characterised by:

Scientific excellence • Openness • Respect • Inclusion • Collaboration

Thank you for helping us make ICCE 2027 a positive and inspiring experience for everyone.
